

independent fleet and fuel efficiency advice.

J Hayward & Sons

Although J Hayward and Sons Ltd have almost a century of experience in the transport industry, they did not hesitate to contact Liquid Management Solutions to provide them with independent fleet and fuel efficiency advice.

The advisor supplied the company with a detailed, yet clear document, which outlined his proposals for the client, and how they may operate in a more fuel-efficient way, which would reduce costs – increasing profits.

There were 20 main objectives within the advisor's report, which once implemented should provide the company with a total saving of over £200,000*, which will go straight on to the bottom line.

Sean Hayward, General Manager was particularly impressed with the overall knowledge base of the advisor, but also his extensive knowledge of fuel monitoring and incentivising drivers to continue to be fuel-efficient.

"The advisor's advice was impartial, independent and extremely helpful. He has assisted us with bringing our fuel efficiency equipment, knowledge and skill set up to date. Based on the advice we were given, we have invested in a new fuel monitoring system, outsourced our fuel management to LMS and implemented a driver incentive scheme."

*Estimated saving based on action plan outlined in the advisor's report
